If the state gets back into the green then have them get their raises. We are 60 billion in debt now! This is a not going to get fixed if we reward the people that brought us here! If you guys support that, you are traitors to the state and every new yorker!

Do you have a clue what kind of benefits these people have and you guys are trying to pay them more ... let these big shots get the average income of a new yorker. Then they will work their ass off trying to make the average Joe make more money. Pass that on to the ones that think they deserve a raise!

People can't be rewarded for a bad job, that will just motivate them to keep up a bad job.
